

Travel Cable Stripper

Description

The cable sheath stripper is constructed to protect you from skinned knuckles when stripping the jacket from all sizes of plastic and fabric covered cable. The cable stripper has a stainless steel blade with a blunt end to protect the wires as you are stripping the covers. The blade can be re-sharpened as needed and has a protective cover.

The knife has a 2" long blade with a 6" long ergonomic handle that is rated for 1000 volt electrocution protection. This knife is simple to use, compact, and a heavy duty utility tool for electrical work.
